

Arranged Marriages

Are you having an arranged marriage? Do you know someone about to be introduced for the first time?

We are an independent TV production company, looking for young people who are looking forward to having an arranged marriage. Are your parents searching for your future husband/wife? Would you like the chance to show the rest of the world how modern marriage introductions work? Do you want to show the positive side of these marriages, the traditions and family values involved?

If so we want to hear from you!

Get in touch if you want to be part of an exciting new programme all about the search for your other half. This is your chance to show the British public how traditional values are being upheld whilst adapting to modern life.
